Old Airport Master Plan Survey

The City of Nevada City is in the process of creating a Master Plan for the Old Airport Property. There have been 2 public workshops and follow-up meetings reporting back to City Council. The workshops were interactive with brainstorming sessions and group work to look at the possibilities for future development of the Old Airport property. The next step of the process is to collect community input by way of a survey. The purpose of the survey is to broaden outreach to Nevada City residents and the general community for input and to examine the priorities that came out of the previous workshops.

As of this writing the survey is still in process. When it is ready, paper copies will be available at City Hall or individuals may take the survey online at the link below on the City's website.

At this link you can also find a summary of the workshops and meetings that have been held in relation to the Master Plan development. The City is always interested in the ideas and perspective of the public and want you to join us at future meetings. Prior to any meeting or workshop, city staff email out a notice of upcoming activity related to this topic. If you are interested in being included on that email list, send a message to Amy Wolfson, City Planner at amy.wolfson@nevadacityca.gov

Arts Council Information

The Nevada County Arts Council is planning to have a temporary art installation located in Nevada City. The art installation will be designed to explore how women find and maintain their sense of belonging in our changing rural landscape. It will ultimately create a community conversation - a way to connect, explore and empower. This display has not been designed yet and will be presented to the Nevada City Planning Commission to request approval prior to being placed in town. If approved, the installation will be created and placed for a period of one month. If you would like to be involved in the design planning or want more information about the project, visit the Art Councils website at nevadacountyarts.org

Christopher Columbus

Christopher Columbus, an Italian-born explorer sailed August 1492, bound for Asia with backing from Spain. Columbus intended to chart a western sea route to China, India and the islands of Asia. Instead, on October 12, he landed in the Bahamas. In March 1493, Columbus returned to Spain in triumph. The explorer crossed the Atlantic several more times, but it wasn't until his third journey that Columbus finally realized he hadn't reached Asia but instead had stumbled upon a continent previously unknown to Europeans.
